In 2007, the death metal band ABSURD CONFLICT celebrate 10 years of their existence underground.

The band is known for skilful mixing melodies with technical elements into an aggressive death metal sound, supported with excellent instrumental skills of the lead guitar and drums.

The ambitious 12" LP released by the record label owned by the band's singer contains studio and live material mapping the band's creative potential in the recent years.

"Point of Crisis" contains 4 studio tracks recorded in the Šopa studio.

"Live Crisis" is an authentic 5-track live recording containing an unreleased track "No Solution Equation".

The entire material has been newly mastered and materialized on 500 black discs.
